at all levels, and the price moved upwards with great apparent facility and without hesitation on account of the heavy offerings encountered at various stages.

Advices from the iron and steel trade were of brilliant prospects and active present demand. The healthy vitality of the steel trade is of direct beneficial effect on a large number of stocks, and its importance as a barometer of general trade conditions is regarded as even more important. The determined strength of United States Steel, therefore, radiated a strengthening influence all through the list. Even the Copper stocks got some benefit from the movement although authorities in that trade continue to report large accumulation of stocks in European hands and pressure to sell refined copper by former speculative buyers in this country.

There was further talk of a wide-reaching agreement amongst the chief banking interests of the country, which was said to be intended to obtain a sure harmony and actual co-operation amongst the most powerful graups of financiers, whose interests have clashed at times in the past. The effect on speculation of these rumors is magnified by reason of the previous fears which had grown up.

Looms Into Market.

Union Pacific loomed into market prominence again following the punication of the brief and simple provisions of the will of the late head of the system.

ments going on in the stock market.

The declining course of the foreign exchange market was taken to show that recourse was being made to foreign manney markets for means to carry on the speculation. Foreign discounts discontinued to harden under this influence and the continued demand from Russia for gold.

The broad initimation from Berlin of an early advance in the official discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany was looked upon as reflecting the prevailing trend of money markets. Rates for time loans were marked up 1-4 per cent, for various maturities to the highest rates touched since the business revival set in. ed since the business revival set in. ### COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, September 16.—There were violent fluctuations in the cotton market to-day, an excited advance being followed violent fluctuations in the cotton market to-day, an excited advance being followed by a sharp reaction in the late trading, with the close barely steady at a net gain of only 229 points. The market opened barely steady at an advance of il points on September and off 296 points on other months in response (to firm cables, but I quickly reacted to a shade under the clossing figures of last night under bear pressure and realizing. At first there was no aggressive buying noted as on the previous day, but there was a good demand from large apot houses, and as the market failed to develop weakness some of the early sellers I turned for cover, sustaining prices until I early afternoon, when active bull support if developed and the market suddenly became strong on rumors of a private condition report showing a deterioration of 6 per cent. since the latter part of August. The advance was also followed by reports of steady Southern markets, favorable accounts of the dry goods trade and apprehensions that the Gulf storm reported to be heading toward the west coast of Florida might be the forecunner of heavy equinoctial rains on open cotton. Trade was exceedingly active on the advance, large blocks changing hands, with rumors circulating that the prominent bear interest was covering. The private condition report mentioned met expectations as to deterioration, but the advance was chacked around 12.33 for December and 12.44 for January, and the market later weakened under a bear raid, which was inaugurated by the offer of a prominent berrower to soll 25,000 bales of January at 12.60. The close was 112.122 points of from the top prices. Southern spot markets officially reported were unstanced to 15 higher.

Estimated receipts at the ports to-day and 33,315 bales against 2,316 tax year, and at Houston 3.475 bales against 2,316 tax year, and at Houston 3.475 bales against 2,316 tax year, and at Houston 3.475 bales against 12,352 last year, and at Good barely steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, September 16.—Light recepts in the Southwest contributed in a large degree to a considerable advance in wheat prices here to-day. The market closed strong with prices up % 10c. compared with yesterday'. final figures. Corp prices also were advanced sharply, and at the close were % 50c. to 1%c. above the previous close. Oats and provisions also followed the upward trend.

The opening in wheat was weak, but the market developed considerable firmness during the first half hour and gained in strength as trading progressed. During two day the December delivery sold between 5%c and 50% 50%c. The close was strong with prices about ½c. from the top final figures on December being at 59c.

Lively bidding by shorts for the September delivery caused active buying of all options on corn and resulted in advances of more than ic, in all deliveries. The demand for the September delivery was based on the scantiness of stocks in store here, and an advance of ½6%c, in the price of cash grain. The market closed strong at almost the top.

The bulge in corn stimulated active buying of oats, which resulted in abustantial advances in all options. The close was strong with prices up ½c, to % 5% 4c.

Provizions were strong At the close prices were 2½6 5c. higher than yesterday's final figures.

Fourteenth Reumon of Old Soldiers, With Judge Williams One of the Speakers.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BRISTOL. VA., September 16 .- Two hundred veterans assembled here today on the occasion of the fourteenth annual reunion of the ex-Confederates of Southwest Virginia and East Ten-of Southwest Virginia and East Tennessee.

They were joined by a thousand of their friends at the Fairmount Tabernacle. The address of the occasion was delivered by Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Wytheville, Democratic nominee for Attorney-General of Virginia, who reviewed some interesting features of the war and history incident to conditions following the surrender. His praise of the heroism of the Confederates and their great generals elicited profound interest.

Herbert G. Peters reviewed the career of James Keelin, the private who held the railroad bridge at Strawberry Plains, Tenn. keeping off single-handed a party of forty Federals, who had been directed to burn the bridge. Keelin's body is buried here.
